- NEW Audio NET BIBLE - Enjoy listening to the reading of the Bible like never before. Hear God's word spoken through the "voice" of the biblical author as though he were talking directly to you.
- NEW Website Upgrades - Come visit www.bible.org and www.netbible.com to see the changes in progress.

"Providing the NET BIBLE and other trustworthy Bible study resources to the world"

The Biblical Studies Foundation was created to deliver God's word and other reliable Bible study resources to the world for FREE over the Internet. We wanted to make sure not a single person would ever be denied access to a trustworthy modern translation of the Bible or other reliable Bible study and training materials just because they did not have the financial resources to get all that they needed or desired. So, at www.bible.org, the resource is always available to meet those needs.

What can the Biblical Studies Foundation do for me?

We provide over 10,000 trustworthy Bible study resources and our very own modern Bible translation, the Net BIBLE, for free use over the Internet from our website. Using these resources for your personal spiritual growth and knowledge can assist you in becoming a mature person in Christ.

The Biblical Studies Foundation is committed to providing only the highest quality biblical training and study resources. We want our users to be confident they are getting the very best materials available at one location on the Internet without having to find and filter other websites in pursuit of reliable content.

What is being said about the NET BIBLE and this ministry?

Here's a typical response...

I just wanted to let you know that I have been teaching from the NET Bible in my adult Sunday school department. I purchased one of the Beta editions last year. It is an invaluable resource. I appreciate all the translators' notes as well as the study notes.

This is the finest tool I have found for teaching my class and for personal study. I also use the studies area of your web page as a resource for my lessons.

This is a great site and truly a blessing.

Thank You.

How is funding provided for the Biblical Studies Foundation?

First, we depend upon the gracious financial support from individual donors. Our hope is to expand this ministry opportunity to people all over the world that share our vision of getting God's word and trustworthy Bible study materials for FREE into the hands of anyone who can benefit from these resources.

Secondly, we depend upon sales of our printed and audio products available from the Biblical Studies Press. The Net BIBLE is our flagship printed product and we have many other quality products for sale through the Press as well. The profits from those sales are used to fund this ministry.

How is this ministry different from many other ministries on the Internet?

This is an Internet-based ministry, not a ministry that happens to have an Internet presence also. We focus on leveraging the power of the Internet as the primary method to reach the world most effectively.

We believe our content is consistently trustworthy and reliable in terms of biblical accuracy, relevance, and usefulness by those who are serious about Bible study. And, we have an abundance of materials available, more so than most other sites.

We give away virtually everything for free so that nobody will be left out due to financial constraints. We have the most liberal policy when it comes to providing free access and use of a modern Bible translation since the Net BIBLE is ours to share with others.

How can I participate in the Biblical Studies Foundation?

Assistance comes in many different forms besides monetary gifts such as providing a needed service, donating a tangible resource, or helping with further website development.

One of our greatest and most important needs is for authors who can create quality content. Let us know if you are interested.
